

CHERI

Centre for Higher Education
Research and Information

PhD studentship linked to Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC) funded project on Changes in Networks, Higher Education and Knowledge Societies (CINHEKS)

Ref: 4778

The Open University's Centre for Higher Education Research and Information (CHERI) invites qualified candidates to apply for a fully funded three-year PhD Studentship linked to the above ESRC research project which is part of the European Science Foundation's multi-country research programme on 'Higher Education and Social Change'. Participating countries are Finland, Germany, Portugal, UK, Japan and US. You will work as part of the research team in CHERI which is located in the Open University in the UK.

The main aim of the CINHEKS project is to analyse how 'knowledge society' notions illuminate the changing relationships between higher education and society. You will develop your PhD research in relation to one main theme of the research.

You should have a first degree in a relevant social science subject and have successfully completed an ESRC recognised research methods training course at Masters level. You will be a UK/EU fee status student.

Download further details and an application form.

Deadline for application: 26 March 2010.